On Aug. 3, the Luciana Nicolosi Benefit Car and Motorcycle Show was held at the Ducktown Inn at 246 Walsh Ave. in New Windsor, hosted by the Saturday Night Cruisers Car Club. The rain did come, but at about 10 a.m. the sun started to peek through and everyone headed to the show. Almost 70 participants came in support of Luciana Nicolosi, who was diagnosed with a rare heart disease called critical pulmonary arterial branch stenosis. She will need a heart and lung transplant sometime in the future. A special raffle for a number of sports items took place and there was music, food and a 50/50. A total of $4,100 was raised to help the Nicolosi family with their medical expenses. The Saturday Night Cruisers are continuing to accept donations.
